

Interpretation:

Festival is a celebration. The oppressed people in the quote is obviously the subjects that are being governed, and the oppressing one is the leader who is governing the oppressed subjects. As the revolution is overthrowing the leader committed by the governed people, it's a glad event for the oppressed. The oppressed are celebrating their will of a new leader coming true.

It's Party Time

REVOLUTION

is the festival of the oppressed

- Germaine Greer
1939 ~ present day

